

American Legion Wet-Dry Issue Of Ulster County Elects Officers

John Lowther of Saugerties Elected County Commander—Membership in County Posts Increased Over 400 During Past Year—Membership Now Numbers 1,050.

At the county convention of the American Legion held at the Memorial Building of Kingston Post, West 10th street, Saturday afternoon, John Lowther, past commander of Saugerties Post, was elected to succeed Charles Parker of New Paltz as county commander. With Commander Lowther at the helm the excellent efforts of Past Commander Parker are bound to be carried out, for the Saugerties man has a splendid record as a Legionnaire. He will be remembered by many as a baseball player of fine hitting ability.

Other officers unanimously elected at the county convention were Edward Bennett of Phoenixia, vice commander; Albert Peters of Saugerties, adjutant; the Rev. G. L. Withey of Kingston, chaplain; Charles Parker of New Paltz, organizer; Walter Miller, Kingston, service officer; and Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., re-elected treasurer.

Citations Awarded for Membership. Citations were awarded posts for large increases in membership by the state headquarters. Commander Charles Parker presented them to representatives of Saugerties, Marlettsburgh, Phoenixia and New Paltz posts. Kingston Post had previously received one. A citation given the county committee by the state headquarters will be hung in the Legion post rooms of New Paltz, as an honor to Charles Parker who acted as county commander when the good work, which merited the award, was done.

During the present year more than 400 members have been gained by the Ulster county Legion. The present membership stands 1,050. Saugerties has increased its membership from 59 to 82. New Paltz from 31 to 65 and other posts including Phoenixia have raised their rosters proportionately. Commander War of New Paltz reported that a drive for a building fund of $3,000 is successfully being conducted in that community. The Legion of New Paltz now has $2,500 towards equipping a new headquarters. It will be in the Methodist Church, recently taken over by the Legion.

Favor Heislman for National Delegate.

A motion was adopted that the name of Conrad J. Heislman, past commander of Kingston Post, be placed in nomination at the state convention in Syracuse as a delegate to the national convention, which will be held at San Antonio, Texas, in October. Members of Kingston Post and Legionnaires of this county are urged to attend the state convention at Syracuse on September 6, 7 and 8. Those who desire may go to the upstate city in a bus which will leave Kingston on the day that the parade is to be held. The drum corps of Kingston Post will be in the parade.

Delegates to State Convention.

The delegates elected to the state convention from Kingston were the Rev. G. L. Withey, Ray Woodard, Lester Barth, Roy Jacob and George Hinder. The alternates from Kingston are Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., Thomas Long, C. J. Heislman, Burt Castle and Robert Jones. The New Paltz delegate elected was Thomas Way, with Albert Cook as alternate. Albert Peters was elected as delegate from Saugerties, with John Lowther as alternate. The delegate from Phoenixia is Charles Styles, with James Simpson as alternate. Owing to the desirable location of Kingston Post the next annual county convention will be held here.

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED IN NEW JERSEY OVER WEEK END

Newark, N. J., Aug. 6 (AP).—Seven persons lost their lives in New Jersey in accidents over the week end. One fatality resulted from the spectacular attempt of a youth to drive a stolen car through Broad street traffic in this city with police in pursuit. Automobiles took two other lives. Two persons were drowned, a boy died when he fell between two cars of an excursion train and the death of an 89 year old man was described as the result of a heart attack.

Governor Will Be Kept Busy With Important Plans for Future

Mass of Accumulated Business and Acceptance Speech Before Him—Reaches Albany at Midnight After Riding Through Storms. Albany, Aug. 6 (AP).—With enough on his mind to keep him occupied for weeks, Governor Smith was back today in his old stamping grounds of Albany from a ten day vacation that wasn't all play.

He returned to the executive mansion in the dead of night terminating after midnight a 100-mile automobile trip through pitch darkness and storms along the west bank of the Hudson. The governor and members of his family motored here from Camp Smith near Peekskill, where late yesterday afternoon he reviewed two regiments of the New York National Guard.

As he got back today to the grind of being a presidential nominee as well as the chief executive of a state, Smith found a mass of accumulated business requiring his immediate attention. He also was faced with the necessity of whipping into shape his acceptance speech, which he will deliver two weeks from Wednesday evening and in addition had in prospect a number of conferences having to do with his candidacy.

Has Speech in Mind.

The governor to a large extent has shaped up in his mind what he intends to say at his notification ceremony on the east steps of the capitol. During the week, doing much of the work at night in the seclusion of the rambling house he calls home, he plans to put all but the finishing touch on it, making final revisions probably within ten days so that the text can be distributed throughout the country by mail to newspapers.

One of his trusted advisers, Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, who has charge of publicity at the main campaign headquarters in New York and is a member of the Democratic Campaign Executive committee, came to Albany today to see the governor. She plans to remain several days, and undoubtedly will have a hand in the preparation of the nominee's message to the nation.

Will Consult Party Leaders.

Within the next two or three weeks Smith also intends to consult either here or elsewhere, a number of party leaders, among them Senator Walsh of Montana and also recognized authorities on the farm question. The identity of the various persons who will be called into consultation has not been revealed.

Yesterday the governor traveled up the Hudson from New York to Peekskill, where the Fourteenth and Sixty-ninth Infantry passed before him in review, their hands bearing "The Sidewalks of New York," "Tammany," "How Dry I Am," and "Irish Times."

In Fog End of Storm.

It was nearly dark when the governor and his party started home. The Smith party caught only the fog end of the electrical storm. Although it encountered considerable heavy rain before reaching Albany. At places the road was covered with water, tree limbs were in the path, and a dozen or more automobiles were passed which had been ditched or showed unmistakable signs of having been in collision.

Governor and Mrs. Smith, however, were in no danger at any time.

WILLIAM KLEIN IMPROVING AT KINGSTON HOSPITAL

The condition of William Klein, master mechanic of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad, was reported as very good at the City of Kingston Hospital this morning. An X-ray was taken of his head and shoulder on Saturday, which showed no apparent fracture. He was at work with an axe cutting away the limbs of a tree that had carried the trolley wire to the ground on upper Broadway during the terrific storm of Friday evening. The wire, suddenly released, caught him under the chin and he was hurled into the air, striking on his head and shoulders.

Bitten by Police Dog.

Saratoga Springs, Aug. 4 (AP).—Pasquale Cresciello is in the Saratoga Hospital in consequence of an attack made upon him yesterday by a police dog. Cresciello was giving the animal a bath when it turned upon him and inflicted severe bites on both arms and legs and shoulder. The injured man will recover. Both Cresciello and his wife refused to permit police to kill the dog.

Died in Belfast on Honeymoon.

Eric, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP).—Word was received in Erie today of the death in Belfast, Ireland, of Charles R. Cronch, widely known Erie four mile crane, who succumbed while on his honeymoon. Mr. Cronch married Miss Isabel Hunter of Erie on June 3 and was reported on his way home when stricken.

Hoover to Deal With Important Plans for Future

Attacks Upon the Opposition—Convinced That This is the Sort of Campaign People Are Interested In. Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 6 (AP).—Herbert Hoover gave his attention today to the larger questions of campaign policy which will come up for discussion and debate at conferences he is to hold at his home here with party leaders immediately before and after the notification ceremonies at Stanford University next Saturday.

Those who are in the confidence of the Republican presidential candidate are authority for the prediction that so far as Hoover himself is concerned his speech will be devoted to an exposition of his own policies and the relationship of government to the many economic and commercial problems at present or soon to arise.

To put it in another form, they assert that his firm conviction is that the sort of campaign in which the people are interested is an affirmative one with the presentation of constructive plans for the future rather than one devoted largely to attacks upon the opposition.

Plans for carrying on such a fight already have been the subject of conferences the nominee has had with leaders. These will be further outlined at his meetings here with Chairman Herbert Work of the Republican national committee, and others who are controlling the parts of the vast organization being built up for the battle ahead.

Mr. Work is to arrive here Friday and remain over until August 12. Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, chairman of the notification committee, will arrive Thursday, but the vanguard of national committeemen and committeewomen will reach Palo Alto even before that time.

No Extended Journeys.

Hoover has in mind now to make no extended journeys over the country, and if he has his way he will leave Washington only three or four times for short trips to the east and some of the border states. He will make a visit to the turbulent capital on August 21, speaking at his birthplace at West Branch, Iowa.

He will deal largely with the agricultural problem, outlining means of indirect aid to the farmer, and as the direct aid.

The Republican nominee had only one engagement today, that with Dwight Davis, secretary of war, who is here enroute to Honolulu on official business. His engagement, slated for tomorrow was clear because of his projected trip into the Sierras of California, beginning Tuesday. He will decide late today whether the pressure of business will permit him to make a journey which he desires very much to make.

The objective the candidate has in mind is Tuolumne Meadows, above the Yosemite Valley. A visit there would necessitate his absence from Stanford for the better part of three days, with two nights spent in the mountains either camping in the open as was done on the recent journey to the north, or stopping at a resort hotel.

Stolen Car Hit Houghtaling Auto

Shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday evening the Stud-baker touring car owned by Charles Arita of Albany, which was parked at Broadway and Field Court, was stolen. At 10:20 o'clock the same evening the police learned that the stolen car had struck the car of Mr. Houghtaling of Hurley at Washington avenue and North Front street. After the collision two young men leaped out of the stolen car and were last seen running toward the Kingston Fair Grounds. The stolen car was taken to the police garage and later turned over to the owner. It was slightly damaged. The Houghtaling car was also slightly damaged.

FIREMEN CALLED TO LEN RESIDENCE BY NEIGHBORS

Sunday morning about 1:30 o'clock the Central Fire Station was called on the telephone by neighbors of Joe Led of 57 Washington avenue, stating there was a fire in the Len house. Deputy Fire Chief Fred M. Lovelock, who responded to the call, found the Len house from home, but managed to obtain entrance through a cellar window. He soon beat off the cause of trouble in the gas heater, which was turned on high and was making loud, hissing noises. The trouble was remedied by turning off the gas. There was no fire.

CRIPPLE HELD, DENIES ATTACKING WOMAN.

William Dougherty, 32, of Palisades Park, N. J., is being held in the Goshen jail as the companion of Joseph Raymond Bonn, who, according to the police, has admitted attacking Mrs. Charles A. Finch of Middletown on a lonely road near Unionville a week ago Saturday night.

It is said Dougherty has admitted being the companion of Bonn, but denied that he took part in the attack other than to save Mrs. Finch from Bonn. The latter asserted Dougherty, a paralytic, choked the woman while he made the advances.

With the arrest of the two men one of the strangest mysteries of Orange county experienced in some time has been settled. Clues were given when the case was given the police. The fact that one of the assailants was a cripple was about the only trigger. It was said that the license plate of the car in which the two men rode after the attack were covered.

Speedy legal action will mark the case, which authorities expect to have cleared up within the month.

Heat Wave in East Polish Airmen Are Picked Up While Swimming in Sea

Storms Bring Temporary Relief and Do Great Damage to Several Sections, Especially in Massachusetts. New York, Aug. 6 (AP).—The heat wave under which the eastern states have been suffering since last Thursday took some lives today, before electrical and wind storms brought temporary relief and did much damage to several sections, especially in Massachusetts.

Two died from the heat in New York, two in Philadelphia, one in Reading, Pa., one in Albany, N. Y., one in Boston and one in Schenectady, N. Y. There were several drownings and many prostrations.

The wind and electrical storms did the most damage in the Connecticut Valley near Springfield, Mass. The storm centered at Chicago, where houses were unroofed, trees blown down and electric light and power service disrupted for several hours.

Holyoke also was hard hit. Paul Rader, a captain in the Salvation Army, was struck by lightning and killed as he was herding several small flocks in out of the storm at Sharon, Mass.

Four people were injured and three automobiles destroyed when a huge tree was struck by lightning in New York and toppled over on them. The storm touched only the northern tip of the Metropolitan district and then swept on out over Long Island, where much damage was reported.

Residents of Beacon, N. Y., said yesterday's storm was the worst they had seen in ten years. A storm at Albany which swept on over the central part of the state did little damage but brought relief from the heat.

Their heavy, four-engine, Marszalek Pilsudski, struck the water with such force that the wings were smashed. The fliers did not wait to inflate their collapsible rubber boat—the only safety device they carried. Both of them jumped overboard.

They were swimming near the wreckage when the Samos picked them up at 4:33 p. m., Greenwich meridian time, Saturday.

Major Kubala Injured.

Once aboard the ship Major Kubala slipped and fell upon the deck. He cut his right forearm with broken glass. As soon as the ship landed the fliers at Leixoes yesterday he rushed to the Military Hospital at Oporto. There his injured arm was treated. It was said today that his condition was not serious.

The wrecked plane, which was valued at a million francs, was towed to Leixoes by the ship. It was found to be so seriously damaged that it was thought it would be almost useless.

The airmen intend to leave tomorrow morning for Paris, which they left by air on Friday at 4:46 a. m. Their rescue was the second within three days of fliers trying to span the Atlantic from east to west. Captain Frank T. Courtney and three companions were picked up by the steamship Minnewaska on Thursday after being downed off the Azores for Newfoundland. Like the Polish plane, trouble had developed with his fuel supply system. A broken gas line had sprayed fuel against the hot motor and fire forced a rapid descent.

Only Ones Rescued. Courtney and the Polish fliers are the only ones who have been rescued after failing to reach land on an east to west flight across the Atlantic. Last year Charles Xanxesser and Francis Coll, the first to try the Paris to New York flight, disappeared after leaving France.

Soon afterward the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and two companions hopped off from England for America and were swallowed up by the Atlantic. In March, this year, the Honorable Elsie Mackay and Captain Walter Hinchliffe perished in an attempt to fly from England to the United States.

The Marszalek Pilsudski apparently had been in great circles over the ocean after leaving the coast of France. No report of the fliers having been sighted came from the Azores which they intended to fly over Friday night.

Early Saturday morning, however, the Norwegian tanker Astec reported sighting a plane 200 miles north of the Azores. At that time the airmen should have been far beyond that point if they had held to their course and kept a normal speed.

Further mystery developed for those who waited on both shores of the Atlantic when the British steamer Amakura three hours later reported sighting the plane several miles northeast of the position given by the Astec. It then appeared that the Poles had abandoned their transatlantic flight and were trying to reach Europe.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 6 (AP).—Six members of an American theatrical troupe who staged an impromptu show on the beach here and were arrested paid fines of $10 each today on charges of consuming liquor in an unauthorized place.

The actors told police they had insufficient funds to pay hotel bills and camped on the beach for the night. Police said they had organized a party which became boisterous. The troupe was en route from Elmira, N. Y., to play in a Michigan city.

White Reigns As of Old on the Courts, and is Inclined to Dominate Ultra-Smart Play Clothes—Shoes More Than Ever Under Sports Influence.

New York—It was not surprising to read that at the tennis tournament at Wimbledon, as elsewhere, white prevailed. White has always been the color of the courts, both for men and women, but in the instance mentioned above, as well as in others, white has generally been worn by the gallery also. It has, in short, developed into a white summer among sportswomen and among the ultra fashionable, even white shoes and stockings being recalled.

No Foundation For Nordic Theory

Popular Theory of Nordic Supremacy Arises from Nordic Concept, Says University of Washington Professor—No Scientific Validity in Old Color Classification of People.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 6 (AP)—The popular theory of Nordic supremacy over the world races has no real foundation, and arises from the concept of the Nordic, said Professor R. D. McKenzie of the University of Washington, during a round-table discussion of the institute of politics today.

No basis for this supposed supremacy exists from a biological point of view, the speaker declared, the white man's advantage today over the oriental, for instance, resting merely in the fact that the white man "got the start."

Informative discussions of national and international affairs have entered upon their second week at Williamstown, where the institute is in session.

"The more we study and classify human beings scientifically into types," Prof. McKenzie said, "the more confused we become about the meaning of the term race, because the peoples of the world are all mongrels, hybrids or mixtures of migrating peoples of the past. This makes for great difficulty when the attempt is made to pick out fewer racial types."

The old color classification has no scientific validity, claimed the speaker, who said "we might as well try to classify flowers by their colors."

"Color has great sociological significance, however," he added "for it tends to differentiate groups and keep peoples apart even though the peoples of different color may belong to a wide variety of racial stocks."

"The concept that the Nordic is superior to the oriental because he has more and larger industries has no basis in science," Professor McKenzie continued. "The Nordic happened to be the first to use mechanical energy and just happened to have the resources of energy, and thus got the lead over the rest of the world in the 19th century."

BARN AT CORTKILL HIT BY LIGHTNING AND BURNED

The barn was filled with the season's crops and both barn and contents were destroyed. Only a small amount of insurance was carried on the barn and its contents.

Epitaph.

There is no more of a "catholic" man, except for a political purpose, than there is a Protestant man.

Noah Webster's wife once discovered him kissing a pretty maid. "I am surprised," Noah said to his wife. "No, my dear," Noah replied, "I am surprised, you are astonished."

Tut-Tut, Be Careful!
"Is Nora there?"
"No, she isn't."
"Do you know where I can get hold of her?"
"I couldn't tell you; the boys say she is awfully ticklish."

An old maid went to confession and told the priest that she had been ardently kissed. "When did it happen?" said the priest, gently.
"Twenty years ago," the old maid told him.
"Have you ever confessed this before?"
"Many times, Father," sighed the penitent, "but I just love to talk about it."

UNWELCOME GUESTS.
Folks now are cutting down the weeds, which will prevent the spread of weeds. And autumn winds the seeds will blow. They grow faster than the corn. They break the dew at night and morn. They treasure sunshine in each stalk. And all man's diligence efforts mock.

You can tell the road to success by the friendships scrapped along the way.

Advertising Man: "It certainly pays to advertise. There are twenty-six mountains in Colorado higher than Pike's Peak."

A.W.O.L.
Here lies the body of Samuel Crane. Who ran a race with a speeding train. He reached the track, got near across. But Sam and his car were a total loss. The sexton softly tolled his knell. If he'd only stopped to look and listen He'd be living now instead of missing.

As the little chorus girl said to her sweetie, as she kissed him good night: So long, I'll see you later.

We can remember when a young man would be called a fool for paying $5 for a pair of suspenders. In fact, we heard one called that just day before yesterday.

She—You never hear of women cashiers embezzling or running off with their employer's money.
He—Not often, but when it does happen, they take the employer, too.

Lawyer—"Will you be good enough to explain to the court how it is that you, a man of five-foot-four, could see what happened on the other side of a fence 14 feet high?"
Witness—"Simple enough. There was a hole in the fence."

Movie Hero—"Quick, get my double!"

YOUR PRESENT ICEBOX MAY NOW EASILY BE MADE A FRIGIDAIRE

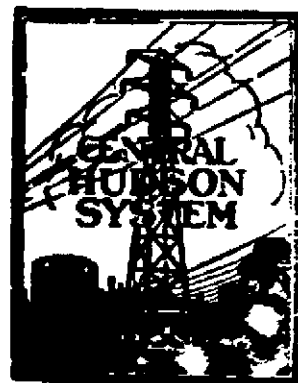

If you own a good refrigerator, you can easily enjoy the benefits of Frigidaire refrigeration. For it's a simple, inexpensive matter to put Frigidaire equipment in any good refrigerator. Then you are sure of automatic, reliable refrigeration that demands no time or thought. You are sure of quiet, economical performance. For Frigidaire is the one outstanding leader in electric refrigeration, offering proved dependability, low cost of operation, and low prices--values that could only result from tremendous production.

An important feature of the Frigidaire is its cooling coil of surplus power--which is entirely out of sight.

It requires big capacity to freeze ice cubes between meals on a scorching summer day. Frigidaire will do it because of its sturdy, over-size motor and a cooling unit of super strength.

With all this power, Frigidaire's simple, efficient mechanism is completely concealed.

Free Acts at Ellenville Fair

Several free acts have been announced as booked for the Ellenville fair by General Manager E. C. Hocmer. The fair opens on August 21 and continues for four days and four nights.

Dolly May, 2:07, world's champion guinea fowl, will be one of the free feature acts of the fair. Dolly May trots around the track in record time, without any driver or harness, and she wears no hoppers. Three other horses, King B. Peter Mount and Charley Kay, said to be the world's greatest pacing trio, are also booked. These horses race for a mile, unguided by human hand. In a recent race at Palm Beach, Florida, the time for the first half mile was 1:04. Accompanying the horses is Barney Google and Spark Plug, said to be an extremely funny act.

The musical team of Ferrarri and Crosta, who play almost every known musical instrument, will present their act. Another act on the free bill is the Hostens, a pretty girl and an athlete, while another acrobatic turn is presented by Richard and Rira. This is the biggest bill ever presented at the Ellenville fair. There will also be the usual horse racing exhibitions.

Fireworks Long Known

It is supposed that fireworks were first used by the Chinese. They were known there as early as the Eighth century, and were introduced into Europe in the Fourteenth century.

Little Band-Wagon Journeys

By L. T. MERRILL

22.—The Grant-Seymour Campaign

THE Democratic ticket of 1908, as in 1904, represented a combination of conservative East with radical West, and the leading place on the ticket went to one who had not actively sought it but was drafted after a protracted deadlock.

Horatio Seymour, the wartime governor of New York, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention at Tammany hall 60 years ago, strenuously opposed nomination of himself for President, just as Chairman Thomas J. Walsh of Montana four years ago in the same city opposed his own nomination for the vice presidency.

Seymour could have had the support of his own state, New York, from the first, had he wanted it, but he persistently refused to be considered a candidate when his friends desired to put him forward for the honor. In the convention, when North Carolina on the ninth ballot cast her votes for him, the chairman peremptorily rejected the idea of his own candidacy.

There were plenty of others eager for the prize. Though President Andrew Johnson had been elected by the Republicans and was in the midst of his impeachment troubles, he was encouraged to believe his prospects of being made the Democratic standard-bearer were good. Likewise Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, discovering that he could not by any chance be the Republican nominee, rushed eagerly from the Supreme court bench for the Democratic nomination.

But "Gentleman George" Pendleton of Ohio, father of the "Ohio Idea" for greenback currency inflation, was the leading contender, having the full support of his own state. "Young Greenback" was the sobriquet bestowed upon him by his supporters, who were at the convention in force.

Through two days of excited balloting Pendleton held the lead, on the first 15 ballots, and probably would have got the nomination but for the two-thirds rule.

Then in a dramatic moment on the third day his staunchest supporters, the entire Ohio delegation, switched their votes on the twenty-second ballot to the chairman of the convention. A landslide to the New Yorker began, and despite his protestations and pleadings against it, Seymour was compelled to accept the unanimous nomination of the convention.

As a running-mate for the conservative elderly New Yorker, the Democrats picked a Missouri fire-eater, Gen. Frank P. Blair, who had pronounced himself in favor of forcibly undoing the whole congressional program of reconstruction in the South.

In its effects upon Democratic prospects his stand proved unfortunate. Grant as the Republican nominee had made his keynote, "Let us have peace." In many war-weary minds the issue became "Grant and peace or Blair and revolution."

Before the canvass was over some influential Democrats derided that Blair withdrew as a can date, or at least take a back seat in the campaign. Up to this time he had done most of the stumping, while Seymour had remained relatively inactive, as was the custom with most Presidential candidates of that day. Then Blair was silenced, and during the closing weeks Seymour took the stump with vigor.

Seymour was a strong and able figure and probably the best man his party could have nominated, but the fact that he had opposed some of Lincoln's war policies made his record vulnerable to Republican attack. The fact that he was somewhat bald, with two wisps of hair over his ears, rendered him also a singularly apt figure for biting caricature by the most brilliant of contemporary cartoonists, Thomas Nast of Harper's Weekly. Nast invariably pictured Seymour with his wisps of hair standing up straight like horns, which gave him a satanic appearance. Upon occasion the caricaturist made this conception more vivid by adding hoofs and a tail.

Considerable excitement was caused during the campaign in the South by emergence of a mysterious white-robed and masked order, the Ku Klux Klan, which, it was alleged, operated to intimidate the Republican vote. The Republicans countered with activities of another secret order, the Loyal League, which operated effectively in instructing and marshaling the colored voters. At the North, also, Republican marching clubs of Boys in Blue, uniformed similarly to the Wide Awakes which had helped elect Abraham Lincoln, held spirited torchlight processions.

Alleged irregularities in the southern elections had their echo in tumultuous scenes in congress when the electoral vote came to be counted and Republican radicals uproariously protested against recording the returns from Louisiana and Georgia.

With or without these votes the result would have been the same. For Grant had 214 to Seymour's 99, although the fact that Seymour's popular vote was 2,700,249 compared with Grant's 2,912,553 caused a rise in Democratic hopes for success in future campaigns.

What's become of all the homely women?

Women simply aren't homely any more. You meet plain women, yes . . . but their smart, trim air is the envy of many who are only beautiful.

In the old days, when a girl gave promise of becoming "hopelessly plain," she was frankly informed of the fact to save her from hurt pride in later years. She remained frumpy and tried to convince herself that she didn't care!

Not today!

Advertising has played a remarkable part in making every woman attractive.

It has taught her to use the beauty and charm that are her heritage, regardless of the shape of her features. Her teeth, her hair, her hands, her complexion, her clothes, and even her erect, athletic figure have been "brought out" by methods constantly before her in advertising.

The great beauty and style specialists of the country have been her consultants, as they are yours, if you are taking fullest advantage of the opportunities before you every day, in the advertising columns of this newspaper.

Read the advertisements. They hold secrets of beauty and style that were denied the women of yesterday.

Americans Take Track and Field Events With 173

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Amsterdam, Aug. 6.—The United States has captured the Olympic field and track championships for the ninth successive time in 22 years, but only at the expense of the biggest blow to American foot racing prestige ever sustained on an international field.

This was almost the unanimous opinion, even among Americans themselves, as the blue ribbon features of the ninth Olympiad closed with France's Algerian, El Ouafi, wearing the Marathon laurel wreath instead of Jole Ray and the bulk of the remaining running honors divided by Finland and the British empire.

Only the spectacular running of Ray Barbuti in the 400-meter flat race, in which the Yankees scored their single individual victory, and the triumph of two American teams in record-breaking of record-equaling relays yesterday, saved the United States from complete rout on the cinder path. The point margin by which America won the team title, 173 to Finland's 102, was gained chiefly on the brilliance of the field performers, who won five events. Despite the deplorable loss of the margin, the Americans scored 82 fewer points than they did four years ago when the same scoring system prevailed, and won only eight first places against 12 in 1924.

Keener competition, as evidenced by the wider distribution of the chief honors this time than ever before, the failure of many of the Americans, such as Lloyd Hahn, Frank Wykoff and Jole Ray, to regain their home form, and the existence of some discord in the official family over various arrangements—these reasons all helped to explain the way the Americans fared. The opposition this time came not alone from Finland, but stronger than ever from the British empire and such hitherto obscure contenders as Japan and Germany.

Finland retained distance running supremacy outside of the marathon, but two defeats for Paavo Nurmi and one for Wilho Ritola at a time when this pair still was believed to be invincible ranks as one of the games' biggest sensations. The flying Finnish veterans, who between them won 10 Olympic championships in eight years, unquestionably have passed the peak and may be on the way out completely.

The marathon victory of the Algerian Arab, El Ouafi, who never before won a big race, capped the climax of a succession of upsets which hit the United States and Germany, repeated marathon history, which always has been replete with upsets. The Arab won in such fashion as to leave no doubt that he was the best of the field as they ran yesterday, his time being the second best in Olympic history.

With the track and field competition over, American forces concentrated their energy for the remaining week of Olympic sports in seeking titles in swimming, rowing and boxing, in which they topped the field in 1924. California's eight oared crew and the single sculler, Ken Myers, of Philadelphia, are the main rowing hopes.

The swimmers already are off to a good start and the boxers, starting Tuesday, hope to punch their way to another championship.

GLORY IS FLEET ON BALL DIAMOND

Baseball glory passes rapidly. Fans see in the Yankees one of the greatest pennant-winning aggregations ever presented on the diamond, but they don't stop to think that of the team that won the Yankees' first pennant in 1921, only three men remain—Ruth, Meusel and Hoyt. Gone are all the others.

You may recall that the Yankees won the first two games of the 1921 series and then lost five of the next six games to a team that would not be denied—the New York Giants. That performance ranked the Giants as even greater than the Yankees, but now the glory of these 1921 Giants has gone with the snows of yesterday. Ed Baug in the Cleveland News. Today not a single Giant of 1921 continues in a McGraw uniform. Frisch, Bancroft, Earl Smith and Art Nehf are still in the National league, but they are against and not for the Giants.

The pennants of 1920 were won by Cleveland and Brooklyn. Today only four of those Cleveland Indians continue on Cleveland's pay roll—Burns, Joe Sewell, Jameson and Uhle. More sweeping still are the changes that have taken place in Brooklyn. Look over Uncle Robbie's pay roll and you will find not a single player who helped Brooklyn to its pennant of eight years ago.

Washington has today only nine of the twenty-one players who participated in the world series of 1924 and Pittsburgh retains but seven of the eighteen men who took part in the series of 1925—three years ago. The survivors are Grantham, Traynor, Wright, Barnhart, Smith, Meadows and Kromer.

Evidently big league managers are convinced that the way to win pennants is to provide a steady infusion of new blood. This new blood costs a lot of money and more often it falls than succeeds, but baseball is a business now and the crowds evidently tire of old faces in the same old uniforms.

Things were different in the pioneer days. From 1890 to 1925 inclusive, America's Chicagoans won five pennants in seven years, and in that period also had practically the same team. In 1900 his lineup read this way: Amos, first base; Quast, second base; Williamson, third base; Burns, shortstop; Dalrymple and Gore, outfielders; Kelly and Plant, catchers and outfielders; Corcoran and Goldsmith, pitchers. In 1900, Plant had replaced Quast at second base. Jimmy Ryan and Billy Sunday had been added as outfielders, while Plant and Kelly covered themselves by catching exclusively. Clark and McCracken were doing the pitching. These in seven years, three men had retired and five new men had been added. Moreover, Amos's entire pay roll cost a great deal less than your team is now paid. Babe Ruth individually.

Yet when it is all said and done, Amos's team did as much in its time as the Yankees have done in later years. I.e., won five pennants in seven years.

Tagging Major League Bases

By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The ordinary action of a fast ball as served by a young right-hander, who is supposed to be a "swinger" have changed another fall game out of the once imposing American League led by Miller Huggins a high priced New York Yankees.

Suggesting and stimulating about in double waters territory, the Yankees were humbled yesterday by the speed and courage of Young Ed Walsh and the Chicago White Sox.

Taking full advantage of this opportunity, Connie Mack's Athletics, with pennant fever raging through their veins, trounced Detroit, 5 to 1, as Lefty Grove, 25-year-old southpaw, dired the ball past Tiger batsmen with bewildering speed.

As a consequence, the Yanks' once proud lead of 12 games has been reduced to three and a half, and unless the champions pull themselves together there is a chance that the A's will overhauled them before another week has passed.

Only a month or so out of Notre Dame, Walsh, son of a father famous in White Sox history, stood the Yankees on their heads and won a well-earned 5 to 4 victory. He fanned nine men, setting down among others Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel. The champions threatened in the ninth, scoring two runs, but Walsh bore down and induced Kouss to raise a pop fly, retiring the side. Walsh gave six passes, made two wild pitches and hit one batsman but courageously pitched his way out of every difficulty.

Grove was the whole show at Detroit. Eleven Tigers fell victims on strikes to the lean but powerful left-hander's dazzling speed. Harry Rice whiffed three times. Harry Hillman got two of Detroit's three hits and scored the only Tiger run when he crashed out a homer in the second inning.

Pitchers dominated the other American League battle in which the Boston Red Sox trimmed the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 1. Charlie Ruffing struck out seven and granted only four hits, Manush and Schulte each getting a pair. Blacholder was touched for eight safeties which, with the aid of six sacrifices were turned into three runs, enough to win for the Red Sox behind Ruffing's great hurling.

In the first game of one of those well-known "crucial" series, the St. Louis Cardinals stretched their National League lead to six and a half games by turning back their closest rivals, the New York Giants, 6 to 4, in 15 innings. Singles by Bottomley and Blades and doubles by Holm and Hafer in the 15th gave the Cardinals the game. Clarence Mitchell, who boasts one of the slowest left-handed balls in the majors, pitched the first 14 innings for the Cards but was replaced by Haid with one on and none out in the last half of the final frame. Carl Hubbell, young Texas League recruit, suffered a heart-breaking defeat after he had pitched 12 1/2 innings and granted only seven hits, four of these, however, came in the 15th where they hurt most. Hafer hit his 15th homer of the year in the first inning with two on and Travis Jackson his eighth with one on the paths in the fourth.

Behind Dazzy Vance's great pitching, the Brooklyn Robins salvaged one game out of the four-game series with the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 2. The Robins knocked Percy Jones out of the box in the first inning. Vance struck out seven men.

Pan-Ams Beat Jersey Team

The Pan-Ams scored a 3-2 victory over the West New York, N. J., Red Sox Sunday afternoon at the Saenger's road diamond. Jimmy Merritt, who recently signed with the oilmen and played his first game of the season with them Sunday, brought in the winning run for the Pan-Ams in the tenth inning.

Rondouts Win From All-Stars

A wonderful game of baseball was played at Block Park Sunday afternoon when the Rondout A. C. defeated the Kingston All-Stars, 2-3. The Stars could not score after the fourth inning when they evaded matters with the Rondouts, who got one run in the opening inning and two in the third. The Rondouts registered two more runs during the game, one in the seventh and another in the eighth. Spiegel, the Rondout's center fielder, by a beautiful throw to home, helped save the day for the Seventh ward team in the ninth when the All-Stars tried their best to stage a rally.

Rondouts Tally First

The Rondouts were the first to collect a run. In the last half of the first inning Crispell walked. Feeney sacrificed which put the runner on second. Krom singled and Crispell went home.

The one run lead was not held long by the Rondouts. In the second inning Glaser got 2 passes and Cragan hit for the circuit, which put the All-Stars in the front by one tally.

In the third session Crispell doubled. Feeney and Krom were walked, which filled the bases. Leonard singled and drove Crispell home. The second run of the frame was scored when Peters was walked and Feeney was advanced from third to home to make room on the sacks.

In the fourth the All-Stars tied the score. Glaser was safe on a fielder's choice. He stole second and made home on Steve Connelly's double.

Score Tied Until Seventh

The score stood tied until the seventh. Leonard of the Rondouts, was called safe when a wild throw was missed by Cragan, the Star's first sacker. He reached second and was advanced to third on a sacrifice by Peters. He stole home and gave the Rondouts the lead by one run. The score was then 4-3.

The Rondouts made another run in the eighth. Crispell singled; took second when Feeney sacrificed and came home on Krom's two bagger to right field. The Rondouts then had five runs and the All-Stars three. Scoring ceased for the remainder of the game.

A great attempt to snatch the tilt was made by the All-Stars in the ninth inning. Cragan fled out to Spiegel. Smedes singled and was put on third by Joe Quinn's double. The latter batted for Winston. Davitt stepped to the plate with but one down and drove out a nifty fly, but the ball was grabbed by Spiegel, whose neat throw beat Smedes to home plate and saved the game for the Rondouts.

Red Sox Beat Lake Mohonk

The Red Sox, who battled for eleven innings with the Clermonts at Hasbrouck Park Sunday afternoon when rain halted the contest with the score 1-1, defeated the Lake Mohonk team at that place Saturday afternoon 4-3. The game with the Clermonts was played for the benefit of the American Legion Drum Corps fund. Both teams donated their services.

In the game played at Lake Mohonk Jimmy Volker and Jack Hobbs formed the battery for the summer resort team. McDaniel and Carpio made up that of the Red Sox. Volker was touched for 11 hits, while McDaniel was found for seven.

Rhinecliff Nosed Out the Spartans

The Spartans dropped a 6-5 game to Rhinecliff Sunday at the Dutchess county community, after holding sway until the fifth inning. This frame proved the harvest for the Rhinecliffers, who collected five runs in the inning. The Spartans, who registered three in the opening stanza, one in the second and one in the fourth, lost out in the seventh inning when the Dutchess aggregation managed to get another tally across the rubber.

Bob Corrigan started on the mound for the Spartans and during the four innings he was on the mound held the Rhinecliff team to no hits. He resigned the task to Cohen after the quartet of innings, as it was his first attempt in the box this season, with the Rhinecliff score a goose egg. Cohen's first session on the hill was a bad one. He was touched for three hits, which augmented by two errors, one by Spervack and another by Misove, gave the Rhinecliff nine a start with five tallies.

The Spartans out-hit the Rhinecliff team, 15-3. Lee Hasbrouck led the clubmen with five hits out of the same number of times at bat.

Weekly Market Letter
On RequestMarket for Fruits
And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 6 (P).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets.)

Heavier receipts of upstate New York big Boston lettuce, a large volume of which was ordinary in quality resulted in a price decline in a weaker market. Crates of 24 heads peddled out at .75-$2.75, principally $1.50-2.25. California iceberg type lettuce was in more plentiful supply and realized from $4.00-7.00 per crate of 45 to 60 heads.

Fancy cucumbers and pickles sold well, but inferior dragged. Offerings from all sections of the state were in limited supply. Bushel baskets of cucumbers sold at $1.25-2.00 and pickles $1.50-2.25.

Arrivals of state green peas were moderate. Trading was fair and the market situation as a whole without important change. Madison county peas wholesale as high as $2.75 and as low as 75 cents per bushel and as low as 75 cents per bushel. Erie county shipments, packed in similar packages, changed hands at $1.00-1.50.

Supplies of state string beans were light. Fancy, tender stock of all kinds was in demand. Ordinary and coarse beans received scant attention. Sales of wax beans were at $6-$2.50 per bushel basket. Green varieties jobbed out at .25-$2.00.

Receipts of Western New York and Oswego county celery are steadily increasing. The outlet was again extremely slow and the market closed dull and weak. The top price obtained for the best celery in the rough was $3.50 per two-thirds crate. Inferior sold down to $1.00.

Hudson Valley sour cherries were in short supply. The market was firm and sales on four quart baskets of both red or black varieties were reported at $9-$1.00.

Green apples of most varieties met a moderate outlet when fancy and large in size. Red apples sold very slow, even at lower prices. Offerings of mushrooms from the Hudson Valley were liberal. Their condition varied greatly, doubtless due to the warm weather. Sales on white stock ranged from .75-$1.75 per three pound basket.

Clambake at Rossmore.
The first local indoor clambake of the season at the Rossmore Hotel, Canal and Ferry streets, will be held on Thursday evening, August 9. A large number of tickets have been disposed of and a good time is assured to all who attend. A large delegation from Newburgh and Poughkeepsie will be present, tickets having been sold to large parties in these cities.

Storm Damage in Ottawa.
Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 5 (P).—In the wake of a heat wave which sent the thermometer to 92 degrees, the highest in two years, a series of storms swept the capital district over the week end, doing thousands of dollars damage.

Cabaret Dance at New Paltz.
Paul Zucca and his orchestra will furnish the music for a cabaret dance at Colonial Hall, New Paltz, tonight for the benefit of the library fund. This is one of the most popular affairs in community life at New Paltz.

and Commercial

New York, Aug. 6 (P).—Responding to favorable trade news and a lowering of the call money rate to 5 per cent, stock prices continued to work upward in today's market. Nearly a score of specialties were marked up to new high records, the gains ranging from 1 to 7 1/2 points. Practically all important groups except the rails joined in the advance. Banks called $10,000,000 in loans during the morning but call money appeared to be plentiful at the renewal figure of 6 per cent. Recent efforts of bankers to curtail the volume of speculative credit have failed to dampen bullish enthusiasm of pool operators although they have restricted the volume of trading on the part of small traders and investors who anticipate another "money squeeze" before the end of the month.

Motors were again active on reports of large mid-summer car sales. Dodge Brothers preferred and preferred certificates moved into new high ground and Chrysler converted an early loss into a gain of 2 points. Revival of activity and strength in General Motors, which crossed 190 for a gain of 3 points, led to reports that an extra dividend would be declared at Thursday's meeting of the board of directors.

New peak prices were recorded by Kennecott, Utah and International Nickel, while Greene Cananea ran up nearly 5 points. National Tea soared 15 1/2 points to 252, duplicating the year's high, and Union Carbide, Sears Roebuck, American Ice, Corby, and Otis Elevator were among the issues to break into new high ground.

Johns Manville was one of the few weak spots, selling down more than 4 points on profit-taking following the brisk advance last week.

Extradition of Blackmer Asked

French Foreign Office Examines Documents Forwarded to Paris by United States Government Which Wants Missing Teapot Dome Witnesses.

Paris, Aug. 6 (P).—Formal demand for extradition of Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness wanted in Denver for perjury, was made ten days ago by the American embassy acting on instructions from the state department.

The legal department of the French foreign office considered no action could be taken until the documents in the case had arrived and been examined.

These have reached Paris. They were sent by a special messenger and have been transmitted to the foreign office. It was said there that a decision might be reached speedily.

In the meantime Blackmer will be kept under a sort of surveillance by the French authorities, who are not disposed to arrest him until a decision is reached.

Blackmer returned to Paris from Trouville this morning, going to his hotel. He had read the newspaper and came up to consult friends. He probably will return to Trouville in a day two.

Quake Destroys Mexican Town

Mexico City, Aug. 6 (P).—Dispatches from the state of Oaxaca say the town of Pinotepa was partly destroyed at noon Saturday by the most violent earthquake ever recorded there.

After the heavy quake at noon, fifty more tremors were felt on Saturday and ten on Sunday morning.

The people are panicky and are living in the open in fear that the remaining buildings might collapse.

Several mountains in the region were reported to have disappeared.

Other towns also suffered but no casualties were reported anywhere.

Although fears were entertained for Huixtla, since no replies to telegrams have come from there.

The other towns hardest hit were Jamiltepec, Cacahuatpec, Tlamanca and Minizco.

The quake of Saturday noon was followed by torrential rains which added to the destruction.

Good Samaritan In Kindly Act

A little heart drama in which a Kingston business man played the part of the Good Samaritan was enacted at the Day Line landing at Kingston Point this afternoon. As the Day Line steamer Alexander Hamilton pulled into the dock from Albany on her way to New York, little Frank Voss, 7, of 1425 Woodbine street, Brooklyn, became separated from his mother.

As the steamer sailed on down the river the little chap was found left behind on the landing, with tears streaming down his face. A Kingston business man who had driven in his car, learning of the boy's plight and the fact that the mother next stop was at Newburgh, whose next stop was at Newburgh, immediately called up his office and said he would not return.

Then turning to the little lad he told him to get into his automobile and he would help him find his mother. As the Hamilton was not due at Newburgh until 2:00 o'clock, the business man said he would have no trouble in making Newburgh in time to restore the lad to his mother.

The Day Line officials here also telephoned ahead to the Newburgh office, notifying them that the missing boy was on his way to Newburgh by automobile.

Raps Democratic Tariff Policy

Washington, Aug. 6 (P).—The debate that has been going on between Senators Smoot of Utah and Pittman of Nevada on the efficacy of tariff declarations in the platforms of both major parties had another inning today when the Utah senator issued a new attack on the Democratic tariff policy.

Smoot is chairman of the senate finance committee and was chairman of the resolutions committee of the Republican national convention. Pittman was chairman of the committee at Houston which drafted the Democratic platform.

"The most amazing manifestation of inconsistency in American political history," said Smoot, "is presented in the demand of the Democratic party that it shall be placed in power because it has acknowledged that it has been wrong for more than three-quarters of a century."

"For more than that length of time the Democratic party has insisted that a protective tariff is not merely unwise as an economic policy but that it is utterly unconstitutional. Now it admits the economic soundness of protection when it speaks of the 'benefits of the tariff.'"

Declaring that the Democratic party "has accepted the verdict" of the electorate that it was "wrong" on the doctrine of bi-metalism, imperialism, and the League of Nations, the senator said:

"Now on the tariff which has figured in every campaign since the Republican party was organized, Democratic leaders acknowledge that they were wrong and the Republicans right. There may be some difference in matters of detail, but fundamentally the Democrats admit that the protective policy is not only constitutional but wise. They are going into this campaign seeking the support of American industry on the plea that they are no longer a menace to American prosperity."

Coming Dance At Crosspatch

All the neighbors are looking forward to a pleasant time at the dance to be given at Crosspatch Community Center, Saturday evening, August 11.

This is the first summer party at Crosspatch this season. All the neighbors really means everybody, old and young, for twenty miles around. Summer guests and country residents find Crosspatch a pleasant meeting ground to make new friendships and renew old ones.

As nearly everyone knows, Crosspatch is about three-quarters of a mile from the end of the state road, Willow. The dirt road for that short distance is good, so the place is easily reached.

There will be a good dancing floor, and music and good fellowship and Crosspatch has a pleasant reputation for giving everybody a good time. No dancing is charged so the whole family, from grandma to the baby, can come and have a good time. A large porch has been added at the rear of the Community house, so those who do not dance can have a pleasant place to chat and look on. The secret attic intrigues, the youngsters and even older persons wonder if treasure might not have been hidden away in the old days—on this far nothing has been found. "Find Felix" is the game with which old and young amuse themselves in that hour or so while people are arriving and dancing has not begun. It is a sort of an indoor treasure hunt, for the lucky finder of Felix gets a crisp, new one dollar bill.

Felix has been everything from a blue cat to a toy beetle. At a summer party last year Felix hid behind a bunch of mistletoe that had been hanging to a beam since Christmas. Felix may be anything but must have the name plainly printed on it. Every inch of the Community House has been explored so often by clever eyes and fingers that Mrs. Cross is hard put to it to find a place of concealment for Felix that will last more than a quarter of an hour. As a variety of the usual hunt, on Saturday evening, pennies will be tucked into old corners, to amuse the younger children, and it is just possible that "Felix" will be found printed on one of the pennies.

Crosspatch flower garden is looking its loveliest and its blooms will be stripped to decorate the hall for the dancing party. Refreshments will be served on the porch. Everybody who enjoys a real old-fashioned country dance should come. All the old-fashioned square dances held at Crosspatch and Walter Shulz and his friends know all the old ones and call the "Grape Vine", "Captain Jenks", "Pop Goes the Weasel", "Birdie in the Bush", and a score of others. There is a phonograph for the new dances and a set of records, but the old square dances continue to be the favorites.

Crosspatch Notes.

There will be the annual children's party the afternoon of August 16, or the next clear afternoon if it should rain that day. All the children who can get anyone to bring them are cordially invited. There will be games and ice cream and lots of good things to eat. The hunt for pennies in the grass was so popular last year that it will be repeated this year. One hundred pennies will be scattered through the grass in the front yard and all the children under 16 years of age will be encouraged to search for them. "Finders Keepers" is the motto. Last year the smaller children proved to have the sharpest eyes and one boy found six pennies. Of course the children "Find Felix", but they are allowed to do the hiding and the prize is smaller than at the "town-ups" dance. Parents and friends are invited to come and spend the afternoon. It is suggested that each grown-up group bring at least one child—just like going to the circus—they come to see the children and have a good time.

Afternoon tea is popular at Crosspatch, especially among summer vacationists and their guests. No formal invitation is necessary. You just stroll up that pretty country road and Mrs. Cross is at home, there is always tea and something good to eat. Then there is much pleasant talk and perhaps a game of bridge. Mrs. Cross is especially glad to welcome those who are new to the neighborhood. She says she gets as much fun out of it as her guests. The refreshments are simple and you can help to set the table and cut the sandwiches. And even wash the tea cups if you are very good. Mrs. Cross picks up some pretty china in the city and loves to use it at afternoon teas.

Boys Caught in Chase on River

Four Youths Accused of Stealing From Store in Highland—Captured in Rowboat Friday Night.

One rowboat, four boys, 62 bottles of soda and five youthful seafaring sailors were the sum and substance of a haul made by Detective Leathery of the Poughkeepsie police force Friday night on the Hudson river.

About 6:30 o'clock a call was received at the police station from Ulster county authorities saying five boys had stolen a quantity of soda from a store on the west side of the river and had escaped by boat. The official asked the assistance of the police force to apprehend them on the other side.

Leathery saw the boat in mid-stream with four of the lads pulling lustily at the sweeps. He ran to the yacht club and commandeered a rowboat and with the yacht club steward embarked for the chase. Their idea was to slip along the shore and close in on the boys' craft when it attempted to land but one man was hardly a match for four boys.

Al Traver saw the plight of the police craft and started to sea in his speed boat and started to sea in his speed boat. When he neared the boat load of booty the boys gave up in dismay and were a dejected group as the boat was towed to shore.

Later Deputy Sheriff Elliott of Ulster county took the boys in charge and carried them back over the river, where they will face charges in the Ulster county children's court.
